WEEKEND AND EVENING
Driving and parking directions
Tulane University Special Collections (TUSC) Gallery

Gallery location: Jones Hall, Room 208A (on the second floor), 6801 Freret St., on the uptown campus of Tulane University, New Orleans

Jones Hall is one of the few Tulane University uptown campus buildings with a dedicated street address. This makes it easier to find than many campus buildings, but off-campus, off-street parking is scarce. Here are directions to drive to and park on campus, and also easily locate Jones Hall. For an interactive campus map, click to campusservices.tulane.edu/resources/map to locate “Joseph Merrick Jones Hall” (#25).

1) Driving directions
   From I-10 Baton Rouge: Exit Carrollton, turn right onto Carrollton. Turn left on Claiborne (you will have to make a U-turn after crossing Claiborne, and then make a right onto Claiborne). Turn right on Broadway. Turn left on Willow (at the stop light). Take the second right on Newcomb Place. Drive into campus.

   From the Central Business District: Head north (upriver) on Claiborne. Turn left on Audubon Drive. After crossing Willow, Audubon becomes Newcomb Place. Drive into campus.

2) Parking directions:
   Continue driving into campus via Newcomb Place, going towards Freret St. and farther away from Willow St. You will see two buildings as you drive in. To your left, you’ll see a blue-green building (The Commons). To your right, you’ll see a red brick building (Dixon Hall). You may park in any non-reserved parking space. However, the closer that you’re able to park to The Commons and Dixon Hall, the better, so that you don’t have to walk a long distance.

   After parking, walk away from Willow St. and towards Freret St., and continue walking on the pedestrian-only path on Newcomb Place, which is between The Commons and Dixon Hall. After walking for less than one minute, you’ll notice another parking area and the Howard-Tilton Memorial Library to your right. Make a sharp left to walk towards an outdoor patio area with tables and chairs. The red brick building attached to the patio is Jones Hall.

NOTE: Vehicles parking on the uptown campus between 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Monday-Friday, are required to display an annual parking permit, a daily parking permit, or park in an hourly space. To purchase a one-day parking pass for M-F daytime, visit parking.tulane.edu and print your parking pass in advance (or write the issued parking number on a piece of paper that is prominent from your car dashboard).
