

An Advanced Search is a way to combine search terms in different categories. It is similar to a Keyword Search, but allows a more specific search.

Start at the library homepage, click on CLASSIC CATALOG in Popular Resources box. Then click the ADVANCED tab on the Classic Catalog page.

Search: 2 any of these 3 Keyword Anywhere

AND 4

5 any of these 3 Keyword Anywhere

AND

6 any of these 3 Keyword Anywhere

Reset

Year: Current Material From To

Location:

Place:

Type:

Status:

Format:

Language:

Records per page: 8 Search

Search tips:

- Use ? for truncation. Example: child? will find child, children, childhood
- For an Author search, type the authors' last name, a space, then first name or initial
- any of these means that one or more of the terms must appear in the record
- all of these means that all the words must appear in the record
- as a phrase means the terms will be searched for as entered
- AND will narrow a search to obtain fewer records
- OR will expand a search to obtain more records
- NOT will narrow a search by excluding terms

• Search in options include: keyword anywhere, ISBN/ISSN combined, title, author, subject (keyword), personal name (by or about), series, publication date, publisher, title proper, place of publication, table of contents/notes, Superintendent of Documents number.

- 1 Type in your first search term(s) in the first Search box. Don't worry about correct capitalization.
- 2 Select a word order combination. The default combination for search terms is for any of these, which will search for your terms in any order. The other options are for all of these and as a phrase.
- 3 Choose a category from the drop-down menu. This menu offers more options than in a Basic Search.
- 4 Select which Boolean operator (AND, OR, NOT) you want applied to your terms.
- 5 Type in your second search term(s) and follow the steps 2-3 above.
- 6 If you have a third search term, follow steps 1-4.
- 7 In addition to the drop down menu, you can also refine your search with several other parameters. Make the selections you'd like from the available drop down menus.
- 8 Click Search.

Example search

Let's say you are looking for a short story by William Faulkner with the word "rose" in its title:

- Type in "faulkner" in the first Search box.
- Select "all of these" as the word order and Author Keyword from the drop down menu.
- Select the AND operator.
- Type in "rose?" in the second Search box.
- Select "all of these" as the word order and Keyword Anywhere from the drop down menu, or select Table of Contents/Notes.
- Click Search.

Search:

faulkner	all of these ▼	Author Keyword ▼
AND ▼
rose?	all of these ▼	Keyword Anywhere ▼
AND ▼
	any of these ▼	Keyword Anywhere ▼

Looking at your search results

Once you have performed your search, you will get a list of results.

To view the record of any item, click on the title of the item.

Be sure to note the

Location,
Call Number, and Availability

Reading Faulkner's best short stories /

Skei, Hans H., 1945-
Howard-Tilton
PS 3511 .A86 Z9689 1999
✔ available, Howard-Tilton Stacks

Consult the Call Number Floor Guide to locate call numbers in Howard-Tilton Library.

Call Number Floor Guide Howard-Tilton Memorial Library
Call Number	Floor
A-BF	5
BG-DA	4
DB-LT	3
M-NX	6
P-PF	3
PG-QD	2
QE-Z	1

Need help? Contact the Research Help Desk anytime you have questions: visit us in person, call (504) 865-5606, go to library.tulane.edu, or email libref@tulane.edu